Mr. Faris' Facts

Hello parents and guardians. It looks like winter is upon us. Please make sure your child brings warm clothes for the conditions. We will be walking to Soldotna Creek Park (regardless of the weather), for water quality testing next Friday, October 21st. If you need any gear, please just ask as we have extra hats, gloves and jackets to share.

Students wrapped up their learning about Newton's Laws of Motion and simple machines. They finished up a little poster (we call it a foldable), sharing their learning on this topic. Students finished their Square 1 Art pieces this week and they came out wonderfully. They will be submitted soon by Mrs. Edmunds. You and your family will have the opportunity to purchase different items with the art on them (mugs, hot pads, mouse pads, etc.) Next week we will begin a unit studying the 13 colonies.

I would like to give a special shout out to Mrs. Paulk as she helped the whole school with tie-dyeing on Tuesday along with Mr. DeVold. We are all very excited to see how our t-shirts turn out.

The office now has on-line sign ups for parent/teacher conferences beginning the week of the 17th. Conferences are Thursday and Friday October 27th and 28th. If you are not able to make it on either of those days, please contact me for an alternate day/time.

The following Monday we will have a Halloween party in our class in the afternoon. The 6th grade students are going to begin planning our Halloween Party next week. Wearing costumes to school is fine that day, or if they want to change into them at lunch as well. Please remember kindergarten students will see the costumes; no blood or gore, save those costumes for after school trick-or-treating.

Thanks for all you do. Please contact me if you have any questions or concerns.
